SHOW SYNOPSIS

In the Raggs LIVE Dance Party, the five canine members of The Raggs Band (Raggs, Trilby, Pido, B. Max and Razzles) each teach the audience their special two-step movement featured in a favorite song. B. Max's Dance-O-Meter, a giant interactive machine with an appetite, rates the dances (all winners, of course!) and a tie is broken when the pups combine the dances into one super, mega-dance! A human emcee named Roadie keeps things moving along! Larger shows also feature supporting dancers.

CURRICULUM AND POSITIVE MESSAGING

In Raggs LIVE Dance Party, the characters use the power of music, humor and dance to address key curriculum goals as outlined by the National Association for the Education of Young Children. The high energy, interactive show makes learning easy and fun!

Key areas of academic and personal growth skills:

- Cognitive/Educational

TV SERIES ON PBS

Raggs is the fastest growing and largest independent TV series in the US today. A hit on PBS stations nationwide, the series stars five colorfully costumed and musically-gifted pups who entertain, educate and inspire 3 to 6 year olds.

TOUR EXPERIENCE

Performing Arts Centers, Amusement Parks, Fairs/Festivals

With five years of tour experience and over 3,000 live performances in the US, Europe and Asia, The Raggs Band is one of the premier live shows for kids today. In addition to several multi-city national Performing Arts Tours, the band performed live on the Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon in 2008 and several other televised appearances. The Raggs Band has also performed at The White House (4 times) and enjoyed three extended tours for US Armed Forces schools and families overseas.
